Audit of Financial Statements

June 30, 2015 and 2014

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of Environmental Fund for Georgia, Inc. dba EarthShare of Georgia

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of Environmental Fund for Georgia, Inc. dba EarthShare of Georgia (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2015 and 2014, and the related statements of activities, and cash flows for the years ended June 30, 2015 and 2014, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audits. I conducted my audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, I express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Environmental Fund for Georgia, Inc. dba EarthShare of Georgia as of June 30, 2015 and 2014 and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Notes to Financial Statements - June 30, 2015 and 2014

Note 1: Organization and Nature of Activities

The Environmental Fund for Georgia, Inc. is a not-for-profit organization exempt from income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code. On June 6, 2001, the Organization began doing business as EarthShare of Georgia.

EarthShare of Georgia offers citizens one smart and simple way to care for our air, land and water. As Georgia's only environmental fund, EarthShare of Georgia partners with Georgia businesses and employees to support more than 62 leading environmental groups through workplace campaigns and other activities. Employee donated funds are then allocated to support the operations and programs of EarthShare of Georgia's member groups.

Note 2: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Revenue Recognition

Annual campaign contributions are generally available for unrestricted use in the related campaign year unless specifically restricted by the donor. Such unrestricted donor contributions are therefore included in unrestricted net assets, even though use of the funds may be restricted by the Organization's Board of Directors. Unconditional promises to give are recorded as received. Unconditional promises to give due in the next year are reflected as current promises to give and are recorded at their net realizable value. The majority of the promises to give are received from a broad base of Georgia contributors as a result of the workplace giving programs. An allowance for uncollectible pledges is provided based on management's evaluation of potential uncollectible promises receivable at year end.

Grants and other contributions of cash and other assets are reported as temporarily restricted support if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Contributions of donated noncash assets are recorded at their fair market values in the period received. Contributions of donated services that create or enhance nonfinancial assets or that require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills, and would typically need to be purchased if not provided by donation, are recorded at their fair market values in the period received.

Investment earnings available for distribution are recorded in unrestricted net assets.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the use of management's estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Allocation of Expenses

Salaries and employee benefits are allocated by management among program expenses and supporting services on the basis of estimated hours worked by the staff on the various activities of the Organization. All other functional expenses are specifically identified to a related project and are allocated among services based on the nature of the project.

Note 2: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies - continued

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the financial statements, the Organization considers all highly liquid investments with an initial maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Investments

Investments are composed of mutual funds with readily determinable market values and are carried at their fair market value in the statement of financial position. Unrealized gains and losses are included in the change in net assets.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost or fair value for contributed property and equipment and depreciated over the estimated useful lives of five years using the straight-line method. Depreciation expense for the year ended June 30, 2014 and 2013 was $731 and $819, respectively.

Income Taxes

The Organization is a not-for-profit organization that is exempt from income taxes under section 501(C)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Financial Statement Presentation

The Organization prepares its financial statements in accordance with ASC 958-205-05-5 and ASC 958-205-05-6. This requires the Organization to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted, temporarily restricted, and permanently restricted.

Note 3: Investments

Investments at June 30, 2015 and 2014 are summarized as follows:

	2015	2014
Mutual Funds - Cost	$ 97,805	$ 95,171
Mutual Funds - Fair Value	$ 113,001	$ 113,564

As discussed in Note 5 to these financial statements, the Organization is required to report its fair value measurements in one of three levels. The Organization reports the fair value of investments using level 1.

Notes to Financial Statements - June 30, 2015 and 2014

Note 4: Concentrations of Credit Risk

The predominate amount of the Organization's contributions are received from employees of Georgia Corporations. As such, the organization's ability to generate resources via employee giving is dependent upon the economic health of that area. An economic downturn could cause a decrease in employee giving that coincides with an increase in demand for the organization's services.

The Organization's investments are subject to various risks, such as interest rate, credit and overall market volatility risks. Further, because of the significance of the investments to the Organization's financial position and the level of risk inherent in most investments, it is reasonably possible that changes in the values of those investments could occur in the near term and such changes could materially affect the amounts reported in the financial statements. Management is of the opinion that the diversification of its invested assets should mitigate the impact of any such changes.

Note 5: Fair Value Measurements

The Organization reports its fair value measures using a three-level hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs used to measure fair value. This hierarchy, established by GAAP, requires that entities maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The three levels of inputs used are

Level 1 - Quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets to which the organization has access at the measurement date.

Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted market prices included in level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly, or indirectly.

Level 2 inputs include:

- quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets
- quoted prices for identical or similar assets in markets that are not active
- observable inputs other than quoted prices for the asset or liability (for example, interest rates and yield curves); and
- inputs derived principally from, or corroborated by, observable market data by correlation or by other means

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. These should be used to measure the fair value to the extent that observable inputs are unavailable.

When available, the Organization measures fair value using Level 1 inputs because they generally provide the most reliable evidence of fair value. However, level 1 inputs are not available for all of the assets and liabilities that the Organization may be required to measure fair value (for example, in-kind contributions). The primary use of fair value measures in these financial statements are in the recurring measurement of investments (Note 3).

Note 6: Donated Services

The Organization receives a significant amount of donated services from unpaid volunteers who assist in fund-raising and special projects. No amounts have been recognized in the statement of activities for these volunteers because the criteria for recognition have not been met.

Note 7: Operating Leases

The Organization leases office space under a noncancellable operating lease. The lease term is 92 months commencing July 1st, 2013 and ending on February 28, 2021, The Base Rental Rate under the lease is $2,497.58 per month. The Base Rent increases by 3% on the 1st day of each successive year. Pursuant to the lease, the Organization is only required to pay 50% of the Base Rent for the first 16 months under the lease term. In the event of any subsequent uncured event of default, all Base Rent that has been abated would become immediately due and payable.

Year Ended	Lease Payment
June 30, 2016	$ 31,796
June 30, 2017	32,750
June 30, 2018	33,732
June 30, 2019	34,744
June 30, 2020	35,787
June 30, 2021	36,860
Total	$ 205,669

Note 8: Subsequent Events

The Organization has evaluated subsequent events through August 26, 2015 which is the date the financial statements were prepared. No subsequent events were identified that required adjustment to or disclosure within the financial statements.

Note 9: FIN 48 Disclosure

The Organization has adopted the recognition requirements for uncertain income tax positions as required by generally accepted accounting principles, with no cumulative effect adjustment required. Income tax benefits are recognized for income tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return, only when it is determined that the income tax position will more-likely-than-not be sustained upon examination by taxing authorities. The Organization has analyzed tax positions taken for filing with the Internal Revenue Service and all state tax jurisdictions where it operates. The Organization believes that income tax filing positions will be sustained upon examination and does not anticipate any adjustments that would result in a material adverse affect on the Organization's financial condition, results of operations or cash flows. Accordingly, the Organization has not recorded any reserves, or related accruals for interest and penalties for uncertain income tax positions at June 30, 2015.
